It is one of the best books. Better than ever, though I am quite late in starting to read this one. You won't feel monotony at any moment of the time (that's what catalogues are for regarding in the event you check with me).

Thanks to the initiative of some bold and skilful constructors, a considerable number of applications of Reinforced Concrete had already been made when on December 19, 1900, the French Minister of Public Works instituted a Commission to study the question from the point of view of his Administration. Notwithstanding the already numerous experiments, the properties of the new material were still imperfectly known, and the methods of calculation followed by different constructors presented essential differences and even absolute contradictions. The elementary properties of Reinforced Concrete were incompletely investigated, and it was unknown in what measure these properties permitted application to the new material of the principles and the results which had been laboriously acquired for metallic structures, and which constituted the classic science of the Resistance of Materials. The Commission decided that they ought first to study the elementary properties of Reinforced Concrete, reserving for later research, in the light of these properties, the interpretation of the complex phenomena arising in structures. The following are some of the facts established and results obtained by the Commission: - Experiments of several months duration have shown the importance of the contraction, denied by certain constructors, which occurs in concrete, not only at the end of the period of setting but also during a long period of hardening, and which influences the distribution of the stresses between the concrete and the metal...
