GRIN Verlag Gmbh Jan 2015, 2015. Taschenbuch. Book Condition: Neu. 211x152x10 mm. Neuware - Master's Thesis from the year 2014 in the subject Earth Science / Geography - Geopolitics, grade: 2,0, Charles University in Prague, course: Geopolitik, language: English, abstract: In 1989-1990 the communist rule in Central and Eastern Europe collapsed, opening up the road to democracy, came about by means of mass demonstrations, the first of which took place in Plauen (GDR) on 7 October 1989. Only a few months later, no-one could be sure how the world would develop. The so-called voice was followed by exit in the German Democratic Republic and the Czechoslovakians were close to the events taking place in the embassy of the Federal Republic of Germany in Prague. The end of the autocratic system was followed by the process of democratisation, characterised by upheavals and the restructuring of political conditions. Free and independent elections marked the end of democratisation in both the German Democratic Republic and Czechoslovakia. The consolidation period was determined by the dissolution of both of the aforementioned countries. The author's focus was on economic consolidation, as well as on political consolidation with regard to regional integration by means of the countries membership of international organisations and regional and sub-regional bodies. Finally, a comparison has been made of the German Democratic Republic, Czechoslovakia and their successor states. 128 pp. Englisch.
