I propose to trace the history of this growth during the three following marked periods: (1) to the age of Cyprian; (2) to Gregory the Great; (3) to the Council of Trent. It is necessary, in the first place, to have a clear idea of the meaning of sacrifice, and especially as it was understood by the Jews in the days of our Lord. Various definitions of the word have been given in later times by theologians, to suit their respective opinions; but we must look for the right meaning to scriptural instruction.
