Excerpt: .early age may be readily taught to comprehend: as they advance in years, become familiarised with its practice, and experience the beneficial effects to themselves, they will better feel and understand all its important consequences to society.-Such then being the foundation on which the practical habits of the children are to be formed, -we proceed to explain the superstructure. In addition to the knowledge of the principle and practice of the abovementioned precept, the 0 boys and girls are to be taught in the school to read-well, and to understand what they read; to write expeditiously a good legible hand; and to learn correctly, -so that they may comprehend, and use with facility, the fundamental rules of arithmetic. The girls are also to be taught to sew, cut out and make up useful family garments; and after acquiring a sufficient knowledge of these, they...
