THIS beginning-part is not made out of anybodys head, you know. Its real. You must believe this beginning-part more than what comes after, else you wont understand how what comes after came to be written. You must believe it all; but you must believe this most, please. I am the editor of it. Bob Redforth (hes my cousin, and shaking the table on purpose) wanted to be the editor of it; but I said he shouldnt because he couldnt. HE has no idea of being an editor. Nettie Ashford is my bride. We were married in the right-hand closet in the corner of the dancing-school, where first we met, with a ring (a green one) from Wilkingwaters toy-shop. I owed for it out of my pocket-money. When the rapturous ceremony was over, we all four went up the lane and let off a cannon (brought loaded in Bob Redforths waistcoat-pocket) to announce our nuptials. It flew right up when it went off, and turned over. Next day, Lieut. - Col. Robin Redforth was united, with similar ceremonies, to Alice Rainbird. This time the cannon burst with a most terrific explosion, and made a puppy bark. This item ships from La Vergne, TN. Paperback.
